NEVADA SOIL.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—I was pleased to read in your paper a few days ago an editorial that gave the key-note on the soil of Nevada. You said the soil of Nevada consisted of decomposed rocks—all soils are from the same source, but all soils do not contain in quantity the same ingredients. The chemistry of plant-making is not known, but some matters are sufficiently known to lead to an intelligent conclusion on the subject of soils. Certain soils in Ohio have produced for eighty years, without addition from manures, eighty bushels of corn per acre; yet these soils do not differ from soils in New England that are almost barren, except in relation to plant life. The soils in Ohio are more decomposed than the soils of the same nature in New England, and because of that fact, better adapted for vegetable growth. All the nutritious properties in vegetable composition are made up of minerals in some form; the plant takes from the earth and air such properties as are necessary for its life and structure. The vegetable kingdom depends on inorganic matter for life, taking from the earth and air such properties as are required by the plant. Animal bodies take from the vegetable world and from each other, such properties as are necessary for their life and structure; yet both kingdoms are dependent on the same source for supplies. Some soils are better adapted for furnishing these supplies than others, from more than one cause. Nevada's soil from some cause, appears to be well adapted for furnishing the necessary plant-food for full and complete development in growth and quality. To show why this is so would require more space than you could give to the subject. It being true that all nutritious properties in vegetable matter is derived from decomposed mineral substances, should we be surprised when we find in the apparently barren soils of Nevada a grand adaptation for vegetable growth? or that the grasses and other vegetable matter produced is of the best possible quality for producing fat and muscle, or that the fat and muscle produced is of the best texture and flavor, when we know everything necessary for a superior development of vegetable and animal growth is present in large quantities in the soil, and will be ever present for all time in the decomposed mineral substances so abundant in the State. There are but few, if any, rocks in Nevada that do not contain one or more of the minerals necessary to plant and animal life. So abundant are these decomposed minerals that their hydrates may be found in every part of the State in large or limited quantities wherever water rests and is evaporated. Notwithstanding our soil shows its origin more fully than alluvial do by the ever-present gravel, yet no soil, wholly alluvial, contains the forces necessary for finished work in vegetable growth that is contained in the decomposed mineral soil of Nevada.

THE IDAHO ANNEXATION.

The Carson Tribune says: As predicted by the Tribune months ago, the annexation of part of Idaho Territory to this State, is no more to be thought of, for the reason that the scheme has failed. The people of that Territory do not want to come in, and we of Nevada do not want them, and so honors are easy.

Idaho intends pressing her claims to Statehood and to that end will surely receive the aid of the Senators and Representatives of the Pacific Coast, and it would be suicidal for the people of any part of the Territory to agree to join Nevada or any other State and by lessening their population, destroy the chances of being admitted to Statehood. It is now a well recognized fact that the project of annexing the Territory referred to, was, in its incipency, neither more nor less than a political scheme, and for awhile it took with many, so much as to receive nearly the total endorsement of the State Legislature, but second thought prevailed and now it would be difficult to find a hundred men in Western Nevada in favor of the scheme, but as the whole project has collapsed, it needs no further remark than to say that our growing State does not require the addition of such a population as the adjoining portion of Idaho Territory contains and so "All's well that ends well" and our Battle-born Silver State will go ahead, and in sporting parlance, "play a lone hand."

The Virginia Report says: The editorial which appeared in the Reno Journal entitled "Newspapers" has appeared in nearly every paper in the State, and it is now taking a tour of the Eastern and Southern States. We hope it will go to Europe.

PRESIDENTIAL HYPOCRISY.

Cleveland (Closing His Eyes to Things He Once Denounced.

New York, September 2.—The Evening Post (Magnum) says: "The number of Federal office-holders who took part in the proceedings of the Democratic Convention at Allentown, Pa., was surely large enough to attract the President's attention, even if the platform had been more favorable to his policy about various matters than it really was. Even those who can understand his winking at the disregard of his utterances against political activity on the part of office-holders when the result is favorable to the Administration (which is, of course, immoral and inadmissible) would be completely puzzled by finding that the office-holders were not only allowed to run conventions, but run them in opposition to the President's well-known opinions and policy.

"It is now widely believed that the remarkable impunity with which office-holders all over the country are being allowed to address themselves to the task of fixing things is a lapse from virtue intended to facilitate Cleveland's re-nomination. This impunity is very notorious, and is supplying much material for fun, at the expense of the Mugwumps, to the Blaine press. The Mugwumps would be more troubled by it than they are if they did not feel it to be but temporary, and did not look forward with confidence to a great revival of consideration for their feelings. After the nomination shall have been made, about July next, they will probably be sufficiently in favor to wipe out, in their estimation, some of the President's Administration memory, and the slightest oblivion of which they may just now be the victims."

NOT A CANDIDATE.

Robert T. Lincoln Don't Want to Run for President.

TOLEDO, August 30.—The Toledo Blade's Chicago correspondent has interviewed Robert T. Lincoln as to the use of his name on the Republican National ticket. Mr. Lincoln said: "I certainly should not accept the nomination for Vice-President were it tendered." As to being a candidate for President, Lincoln said: "I regret the use of my name in connection with any public office whatever. It seems difficult for the average American to understand that it is possible for any man not to desire the Presidency, but I most certainly do not. I have seen to much of it. I can remember the tremendous burden father was called upon to bear. I have seen enough of the inside of Washington official life to have lost all desire for it. The Presidential office is but a gilded prison. Its cares and worry outweigh the honor which surrounds the position. I don't think there is any likelihood of my receiving the nomination. The men who make the ticket would hardly do so without exacting certain pledges, and those pledges I would not give."

Excursions to the Yellowstone Park and the Pacific Coast.

As a supplement to their regular series of Summer trips to the Yellowstone National Park, Messrs. Raymond & Whitecomb have arranged an excursion to include a grand tour of the Park, and in addition, a visit to the Pacific Northwest and to California. The party will leave Boston Monday, September 12, and after passing ten days amid the wonders of the Park, reach Tacoma, over the famous Switchback, October 5. The Puget Sound country will be visited, and also the great scenic sections of the Columbia river. The magnificent Mount Shasta route, an all rail line, will be taken to reach California, and all the principal points of interest in Northern, Central and Southern California will be visited. The homeward route is through Southern California, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado and Kansas. The October tour (leaving Boston October 11) is similar in outline to the other. Both traverse two great transcontinental railway systems—the Northern Pacific and the Santa Fe—for their entire length, and the Pacific coast for fifteen hundred miles—from Victoria, B. C., to Pasadena. The tickets are good returning until July 1.

Little Pete's Queue.

SACRAMENTO, September 4.—Deputy Sheriff Sullivan, of San Francisco, arrived here this evening with "Little Pete," the Chinese jury-fixer, sentenced to five years imprisonment at Folsom. Pete complains that he is being railroaded to prison. Some San Francisco Chinamen came here with him and there was soon a great commotion about the city jail and General Hart was sent for. It is said that Pete offered the attorney quite a large sum to save his queue for three days, as he is confident that the Supreme Court will grant him a new trial. General Hart refused to state what steps he will take, but it is deemed certain that a writ of habeas corpus will be petitioned for in the morning on the ground that the commitment is defective in not stating the offense of which the prisoner was convicted.

A BRAVE OFFICER.

He Kills Three Desperadoes Who Resist Arrest.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., September 5.—A desperate shooting affair occurred Sunday night at Holbrook, Apache county, Arizona, in which Andy Cooper and a half brother named Samuel Blevins were killed by Sheriff Owens, and John Blevins and Mose B. Roberts wounded, the former slightly and the latter mortally.

The men killed and wounded have been members of a desperate gang of cattle thieves, who have been a terror to the law abiding citizens of Yavapai and Apache counties, and openly boasted that the officers were afraid to arrest them. They have lately been engaged in a cattle war at Tonto Basin, in which several lives were lost.

Sheriff Mulvenon, of Yavapai county, accompanied by Deputy Sheriffs Francis and O'Dell, have been in pursuit of the gang for several weeks, but were unable to effect their capture.

On Monday last Sheriff Owens learned that four men had arrived in Holbrook and were residing in a small house near the Railroad track. Armed with a Winchester the officer started alone to arrest the desperadoes. Arriving at the house he knocked, and upon the door being opened by Andy Cooper the officer informed him that he had a warrant for his arrest. The only reply received was a bullet, which passed through the officer's coat, fortunately without injuring him.

The fire was returned, and Cooper fell dead. The shooting then became general. Owens took his position at a window, shooting all three of the men inside the house.

Samuel Blevins, one of the killed, is a boy only fourteen years of age, but fully as desperate as his older companions. The coroner's jury exonerate Sheriff Owens, who has the sympathy of the entire community.

Mr. Cleveland's Predicament.

The Sacramento Record-Union has this:

Mr. Cleveland has now received the endorsement of four Democratic State Conventions, and is about to begin his "swing around the circle." He may thus be considered squarely in the field for a second term. What, then, is the facing of the party at his back? He was elected upon pledges and a platform to promote civil service reform. But in fact, the most he has done is to confine it in practice to the members of the Democratic party; he has literally chained it to the party chariot wheels by submitting to party clamor for the spoils. The Maryland Democracy in Convention indorse him in one breath, and in the next declare for the spoils system in all its original repulsiveness. The Democratic Conventions of Kentucky, Ohio and Virginia indorse Mr. Cleveland, but open not their mouths in platform declarations concerning the civil service. But in the sessions of those bodies the reform was, from the rostrum and from the floor, roundly denounced and the Convention cheered the speakers. Probably none of the Conventions of the party will hereafter refer to the subject. The Democracy took up the "reform" as a convenient vehicle upon which to ride into power. That accomplished, it has no further use for it. But in what a predicament does this place Mr. Cleveland. If he was sincere in 1884 how can he accept the support of a party in 1888 that denounces or refuses to approve a policy to which he is pledged, he says, upon principle? The interesting question just now is, will Cleveland go back to the wall of the spoils system and put behind him all the advocacy he made for civil service reform, in order to secure re-nomination? If he does, the American people will know how to give him his due. If he attempts to evade the issue by silence, he will prove cowardly. Certainly if his party will declare for the reform, its hypocrisy is too apparent to make that experiment a safe one now. But if Mr. Cleveland does not rebuke his party in this matter, how can he evade the charge of insincerity? And even if he does, what hope can be entertained of the support of friends of civil service reform, while he does battle in the front rank of the party of spoils and plunder?

The San Juan Times, of last week, says:

On Monday last this office was honored by the presence of Senator Wm. J. Westerfield, of Lyon county, Nevada, who came over from Nevada City that day to meet old friends and take a look at the place which more than thirty years ago they called home, and where he buried his wife some sixteen years ago, and where his children's remains lie in our beautiful cemetery. Great changes have been wrought not only in the appearance of the Senator, but also in the appearance of the town in which he first embarked in business after his arrival in this State. Mr. Westerfield, when he left here, went to the State of Nevada, where he has ever since resided. For many years he has represented Lyon county in the State Senate, and has discharged his duties faithfully. This assertion is authenticated by the fact that, although his Senatorial District is strongly Republican, he, a Democrat, has been elected for three successive terms over the most popular man the Republicans could pit against him. Mr. Westerfield was given a warm reception here by his many friends, whose best wishes for his health and happiness accompany him. He left on Monday afternoon for Nevada City. P. H. Butler, our Postmaster, is a brother-in-law of Mr. W.

The Virginia Report kindly says:

The two Reno papers, the JOURNAL and GAZETTE, have improved a thousand per cent. in the last two months. The merchants who patronize them will gain by it, for they are pulling for the town like Trojans.

WOODBURN'S CHOICE.

He Prefers Edmunds, Conkling or Thurman to Blaine.

The Silver State says: The Arkansas Gazette recently wrote to prominent politicians throughout the country asking expressions of opinion as to who the Presidential nominees would be in 1888, and also their individual preferences for those positions. To this inquiry, William Woodburn, Congressman from Nevada, is reported as replying: "For President, first choice, Senator Edmunds, of Vermont, or Roscoe Conkling, of New York; second choice as against Blaine, Allen G. Thurman, of Ohio. For Vice President, first choice, Robt. T. Lincoln, of Illinois; second choice, Gen. J. B. Foraker, of Ohio. Nevada will be very close in 1888 as between Blaine and Cleveland."

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-sw f-1v

Attorney-General Marshall's Reply to Hon. T. E. Jones:

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL,
OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
SAN FRANCISCO, March 12, 1884.

Hon. T. E. Jones—My Dear Sir: I have just received your letter of the 15th. Dr. McLennan has wonderful power. God knows what it is. But he was of great and singular service to me. I would certainly try him if I were in your place. He has worked some wonderful cures within my knowledge. Respectfully,
R. C. MARSHALL.

Charles Crocker, the millionaire, cured of rheumatism in three treatments. Professor D. Gonzalez, San Francisco, was given up by his physicians to die of Sapped Vitality and Paralysis; was carried positively helpless to Dr. McLennan and cured, now says: "In less than one month I was enabled to resume my occupation as professor of music and violinist at the Tivoli Opera House, and ever since (for over three years) have continued in good health, without the slightest return of my weakness or disease."

Dr. Henry Slade says: "My case was considered incurable by the best physicians, but Dr. McLennan restored me the use of my limbs in less than twenty minutes, being paralyzed for over four months."

Dr. J. Wilmhurst, M. D., M. R. C. S., now at Abbotsford House, says: "My hearing is completely restored by Dr. McLennan's manipulation alone."

Rev. A. C. Giles, Mendocino, Cal., says: "The effect which your treatment had on me is truly wonderful. Altogether I feel like a new man."

Dr. G. E. Davis, St. Helena, Cal., cured of nervous prostration, says: "After four days' treatment I was entirely relieved. I have now a good appetite and feel well."

Mr. C. W. Kennedy, Cloverdale, proprietor of the stage route to the Geysers, cured of spasms by Dr. McLennan, after the doctors had pronounced him incurable.

Mr. J. S. Burlingame left Eureka, Nev., on a stretcher. After taking a few treatments of Dr. McLennan he returned a well man.

The Oasis Ranch has a Pacific coast reputation, and the horses are among the finest animals ever brought west of the Rocky Mountains.

ANSWERED.—The Journal has an item headed "What Reno Wants." As Reno seems to want almost everything, it would be much easier to tell us what Reno don't want.—Enterprise.

It wants everything but the newspaper stock boom the local of the Enterprise has been wrestling with for the last six months.

HE GOT A BERTH.—A few evenings ago there was a rush off of the V. & T. Railroad for sleepers on the west-bound train, in which there was a scarcity of berths. While the gentlemanly ticket agent was accommodating the passengers, he evidently was reminded that he was to hold a berth for one Scott, and occasionally sang out, "There is a berth for Scott," but no Scott laid claim to it. One of Nevada's most prominent men financially as well as politically, thought he would not be left, and quick as lightning, passed his ticket to an unsuspecting bystander with two dollars coolly saying, "Get the berth for Scott." His ticket and two dollars were soon in the hands of the obliging agent, the change made, ticket punched, and passed back with the change and sleeper ticket. The financier, who was not to be out done, suggested to the one who obliged him, to take the half dollar and a walk around the corner which he did. The reporter did not stay to see what was the fate of Scott, but the last he saw of the man who had proved himself, on many occasions, equal to any emergency, with grip sack in hand, he was wending his way into the car chuckling at his success, caring little as to the fate of the man who probably saw the Sierras by moonlight.

A DISASTROUS FIRE.—About 10:30 o'clock Saturday night the people of Gold Hill were aroused by a fire alarm. The fire occurred at the Plute House in Lower Gold Hill, owned by M. Fitzpatrick. The firemen arrived on the scene in good time, but could do no good, as there is no hydrants within a great distance of the place. The water in the house was shut off early in the evening, otherwise the blaze could have been extinguished when it was discovered. The house, 30 cords of wood and several out-houses were reduced to ashes. There were about thirty men boarding and lodging there and many of them were in Virginia or at work at the time, and so lost everything. Only a few articles of furniture were saved by Mr. Fitzpatrick. The loss is about $3,000; no insurance.

SHOOTING AFFAIR.—Sunday evening Ed Ryan attempted to shoot F. Poucha in the Delta saloon at Virginia City. Ryan's pistol arm was struck upward at the moment when the weapon was discharged, the ball penetrating the ceiling. Ryan was arrested on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. He has a record of killing one Brannan in Bodie several years ago. The man he assaulted is quiet and inoffensive, and Ryan had been drinking and is said to have been the aggressor.

ELECTRIC LIGHT CO.—The flume for the new works of the Electric Light Co. is now completed, and the machinery is being put in. The new dynamo is nearly up, and in a short time everything will be in readiness for work. When the new dynamo is started up, there will be no more trouble in regard to light, as the power will be adequate for all purposes.

GRAPE CULTURE.—A number of our citizens have grape vines growing in their door yards but they have been planted more for shade than for the fruit they produce. Some of our residents who have experimented in this manner and have failed to secure a crop, labor under the impression that vine culture would not be profitable in Nevada. The test they have made is not a fair one. As before stated they have raised the vine for shade purposes and have permitted the vines to run to wood thereby ruining them as producers. If good results are to follow a venture in this direction, the vines must have a fair show and that is impossible unless they are carefully trimmed, and are planted where the sun can strike them. Even the experiments that have been made here show conclusively that the vines produce well if properly taken care of. Mr. Cohn, of Carson, has taken the initiative in the grape culture in Western Nevada, and his experience has taught him that every hill where water can be obtained can be made profitable, and that the time will come when many portions of the State will be producing large quantities of grapes. Everything that is produced in Nevada is up to the standard of that raised elsewhere, and there is no reason why the same good results should not follow vine culture. Some one should make a venture here on a small scale, and if the effort is satisfactory, there would be no great chances to take.

BICYCLE RACES.—There will be a series of bicycle races at the State Fair that promise to be extremely interesting. The first race will be a quarter of a mile. First prize will be the Society's silver medal; the second prize a bicycle bell. The second race a half mile dash, will be for Richard Herz's gold medal, as the first prize and the second a bicycle lantern. The third, or State race, for the championship, will be one mile, and the prizes will be, first, the Society's gold medal and the second a cyclometer. The two first races are free for all, and one dollar for entrance. The entrance for the mile race will be $2 50. The day that the mile race comes off there will be a grand bicycle parade, in which the Carson and Reno clubs will participate.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.—Charles Mitchell was found dead in his bed at Grass Valley Sunday morning at 6 o'clock by his wife when she tried to wake him. He was in good health and cheerful when he retired last night. Deceased had resided there over thirty years and was greatly esteemed. He was an extensive and wealthy brewer in former years. His age was 68 years and his nativity London. Deceased had a son, Thomas A. Mitchell, who is general agent at San Francisco for several fire insurance companies. An autopsy will be held. Heart disease is supposed to be the cause of death.

THE RACES.—The races at the coming Fair will be the finest ever witnessed in Nevada. The Board is determined that everything shall be done on the square, and merit must carry away the premiums. Every horseman in the State should bring his stock and compete for the prizes, and thereby add to the interest already manifested. The members of the society are doing all in their power to have every department well filled with Nevada productions, and the display is certain to be the finest ever exhibited in the State. Our horsemen can send good horse-flesh here and should do so.

THE BARN BURNING.—The upper story of Hymers' new stable was crowded last night and the pleasure of the evening carried far into the night, or rather morning. The large room was brilliantly lighted up, and the floor put in full condition for the hop. It seemed as though everybody in Reno had suddenly taken the dancing fever, and took their places on the floor whenever a dance was called. It was the most successful affair, numerically and for pleasure, that has taken place in Reno for a long time, and the new stable starts out with an enthusiastic christening.

A GOOD MOVE.—The farmers in Spanish Spring Valley and the Truckee Meadows have purchased D. W. O'Connor's ranch and ditch at the lower end of the meadows, paying $9,000 for the same. The property will be deeded to a corporation known as the Union Ditch Company. This purchase will do away with all further litigation, and settle the water trouble.

DISTRICT FAIR.—The Board of Directors of the Humboldt District Agricultural Society are arranging the programme of purses and premiums for the District Fair to be held next month. About $3,300 will be hung up for races, $1,000 for premiums for stock and $300 for a base-ball tournament upon to clubs from any town in the State.

NEW STALLS.—The State Agricultural Society are now compelled to build more cattle and horse stalls. Applications for them are still coming in, and all who desire them will be accommodated. Bring on your horses and cattle and borrow no apprehension in regard to accommodation.

NOT WALTER REED.—The Silver State says: H. B. Luther, who arrived here Saturday from Pueblo Valley, says that the young man, who was killed at the time Vickers was shot in Guano Valley, was not Walter Reed of Paradise, but a youth from Indiana whose name was unknown even to those for whom he was at work at the Rock Creek ranch.

THE TRIAL YESTERDAY.—The retrial of Mollie Bradford occupied the Justice Court all day yesterday. The question as to whether Reno is an incorporated town was one that was fully argued, the opposing counsel squarely taking issue with each other. The case was submitted to the jury about 4 o'clock.
